Dear Sir or Ma'am,

Valor Martial Arts is delighted to be hosting the Buckeye Championships this fall. The event will be held in Dayton at the South Metro Sports Center on November 2. Last year's event totaled more than 400 in attendance, and we expect to see a continued increase in both martial arts competitors and spectators.

Valor Martial Arts would like to extend the opportunity for your business to maximize its exposure to both local and out-of-area participants. We offer several advertising/sponsorship packages, ranging from a $100 package to our Diamond Sponsor package offering premier exposure to all Buckeye Championships participants. (We also have a Title Sponsorship available: please contact us for additional information.)

The sooner you begin the sponsorship, the more exposure your business can receive (some packages include social media and web-based exposure for your business). For those interested in this benefit, we recommend returning the sponsorship form as soon as possible. We typically begin internet and social media campaigning as soon as sponsorship information is received.

In addition to the athletic competition, during the Buckeye Championships, Valor holds its annual military appreciation ceremony and provides a donation to the USO. Last year, we were able to donate $500 to this military relief organization.

If you have questions, or are interested in the Title Sponsorship, please contact Grand Master Scott Schwab or Master Sara Schwab at (937) 694-0029, or info@buckeyechampionships.com.

On behalf of all competitors, the Buckeye Championships and Valor Martial Arts, thank you for your support!

Appreciatively,

Grand Master Scott Schwab
